

Treasury Department,

BUREAU OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., February 16, 1887.

Sir:

I understand that you are now enabled to employ the whole force of adjusters during the office hours of the mint, this having been the purpose for which the enlargement of the quarters was authorized.

I omitted to ask you about this, but assume that you have discontinued the evening shift of adjusters, so that women shall not be forced upon the streets after dark.

Very respectfully,

Hon. Danl. M. Fox,
Superintendent Mint,
Philadelphia

Just M. Ball
Director of the Mint

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 144

Treasury Department,
Bureau of the Mint,
Washington, D.C.,
February 16, 1887

Sir:

I understand that you are now enabled to employ the whole force of adjusters during the office hours of the mint, this having been the purpose for which the enlargement of the quarters was authorized.

I omitted to ask you about this, but assume that you have discontinued the evening shift of adjusters, so that women shall not be forced upon the streets after dark.

Very respectfully,
James P. Kimball
Director of the Mint.

Hon. Danl. M. Fox,
Superintendent Mint,
Philadelphia